Kantor & Kantor, LLP Creates COVID Longhaulers Legal Resource Center

When the disability insurance attorneys at Kantor & Kantor, LLP see what is happening with those whose COVID-19 symptoms are continuing for more than a month, they know that there is a good chance that long-term disability claims will be denied. Because of this, we have developed the COVID Longhaulers Legal Resource Center.

In fact, the symptoms that Longhaulers are experiencing match many of the same disabling symptoms those living with autoimmune diseases such as ME/CFS, Dysautonomia, POTS, and more.

Since the symptoms dovetail, we are confident that the inevitable problems and denials with the long-term disability insurance providers will follow suit.

“I don’t have to be Nostradamus to see what the insurance companies are going to do,” says Managing Partner Glenn Kantor. “This is why our attorneys are ready to help individuals, their families, and caregivers be as prepared as they can be to work through the process of getting the LTD benefits they deserve.”

The firm has been working with patient groups, physicians, and associations such as the Long COVID Alliance, and others to gather, compile, and maintain the Longhaulers Legal Resource Center. The link is HERE

This resource includes

- Tips for Applying for Long Term Disability Benefits
- Articles, research, and blog posts
- Our Guidebook to the Insurance Claims and Appeals Process
- A recording of a webinar where the panel answered more than 100 questions about disability insurance

- Links to research and support groups

Most of all, we know what COVID Longhaulers are going through, and what to expect when they file for the long-term disability benefits they deserve.

As Glenn Kantor puts it: “We’ve been there, we’ve fought the insurance companies, and we’ve won.”
